

With a discipline of self awareness and a practice of micrometaphysical exercise, consciousness matures to the satisfaction of the inner consciousness. The navigation of the spiritual state of being becomes a faculty following the potential of sense and intellect to become the familiar and comfortable throne of experience and learning.